THE DAY

At the beginning of the event your group will receive a briefing from our Event Manager about the event. They will go through the day's itinerary and give you a brief overview about the crime scene you will be investigating.

Once the briefing is over, our former Scotland Yard detective will step onto the stage and will thrust you into the world of a crime scene investigator. They will take you through all the forensic techniques you need to know to gather evidence at the crime scene.

Before you go to the crime scene everyone will receive protective clothing, and your group will be divided up into teams. Each team will receive a forensic kit. From brushes to record labels, the team kit has everything your team will need to gather all of the evidence.

Once your team has gathered all your evidence it's back to the lab where your team will analysis the evidence. Once all the evidence has been analysed it's time to build a case against your main suspect.

The team who solves the crime will be declared the winner and prizes will be awarded at the end of the event.
