ABOUT THE EVENT

Manager hunt is an exciting event that involves everyone! The entire team will be tested on their basic knowledge and will need to work together to get their answer and move on to the next clue.

A meeting point will be agreed in advance to the event where everyone will be explained in full about the game, no routes will be given to anyone other than the 'criminal'. The culprit will need to go to each of the landmarks that the hunters will, but they will get a head start and will also be told the exact location.

You will be taken through many landmarks and be tested on the areas in London that you may think you know well.

THE DAY

- A member of the DreamTeamBuilding team will meet you at your chosen start point to set everyone up for their event.
- Once everyone has arrived we will split you into teams, these teams will be randomly selected by the person who is leading your event.
- Once everyone is in their teams they will need to choose their team name and will be given the first clue.
- All clues at the landmarks on the route will lead you to your next location.
- The winning team is decided by the length of time that they have had the manager in their grasp (managers will need to time this), as well as the length of time it took you to travel around the clues. If no one as successfully caught the manager then the managers win. Other winning positions will be decided by the length of time it takes them to complete the event.
- Once the event as finished, you are welcome to bring food or we are able to provide catering for you.

OPTIONAL EXTRAS

- Why not add some lunch? How about teas, coffees and nibbles?
- Extend your event and see more sights!
- Add on another event to make a day of it!
 - Why not take part in an escape room?
 - How about tag archery?
 - Take to the water and try your hand at raft building!
- Event photography
